CONSERVATIVES' JOBS CRISIS

Since the start of the pandemic, hundreds of thousands of people have lost their jobs and millions more are now at risk.

The Government was right to introduce the furlough scheme, but it is ending, and the replacement scheme is weak. It puts employers in an impossible situation whilst the virus is still with us. That means we risk levels of unemployment not seen since the 1980s.

The Government is in denial about the scale of the jobs crisis and the economic cost of their inability to get a grip on test, trace and isolate.

Labour's Campaign for Jobs

Labour's three steps for a better, more secure future:

Recover Jobs:

A proper job support scheme that keeps people in work.

Retrain Workers:

A National Retraining Strategy to help people back into work.

Rebuild Business:

Targeted support for businesses who do the right thing on investment, employment standards and the climate crisis.

GET TO KNOW KEIR

What was your early life like?

When you grow up in a small town, you rarely thank your parents for naming you Keir! But I was lucky to grow up in a loving family, and family means the world to me. My dad was a tool-maker and my mum was a nurse.

What did you do before becoming an MP?

I led the Crown Prosecution Service, in charge of criminal prosecutions in England and Wales. This involved working with the police and other agencies to fight for justice and keep our country safe. Before that, I worked as a lawyer helping with the implementation of the Good Friday Agreement's recommendations on policing.

What made you want to get into politics?

I will always be thankful to the NHS, which cared for my mum for much of her life. Protecting and improving the lives of everyone in our country was what inspired me to get involved with the Labour Party.

"My dad was a tool-maker and my mum was a nurse."

What do you get up to outside work? I'm a big football fan, and I play regularly. But of course, my most important role is as a husband and a dad. My kids couldn't care less that I'm Leader of the Labour Party, which I love!

"I love our country. I want it to be the best place to grow up in and the best place to grow old in."

A NEW LEADERSHIP
 Labour

Labour

"Labour will always put your job, your hard-earned money and your security first."

I know the past few months have been extraordinarily difficult.

I want to pay tribute to those families who have lost loved ones to the Coronavirus pandemic, to the NHS and care workers who have fought to save lives and to all the key workers who have kept our country going.

The truth is that this pandemic has lifted a curtain on our society with a decade of Conservative underinvestment and mismanagement.

Boris Johnson's Government has been slow and incompetent: slow to lockdown, slow to protect those in care homes, and utterly chaotic on testing. The latest restrictions are necessary, but not inevitable. They are a failure of Government.

I know many people are worried about their jobs as the furlough scheme ends and restrictions increase. Labour will continue fighting relentlessly, up and down the country, for better support for jobs.

When this crisis ends - and it will end - we need to build a better future.

Under my leadership, Labour will always put your job, your hard-earned money and your security first. I love my country. And I want it to be the best it possibly can be. The best country to grow up in and the best country to grow old in.

Together, we can build it.

Keir Starmer
Leader of the Labour Party

My vision for Britain: the best place to grow up and the best place to grow old.

I want to lead a country that doesn't force people to move hundreds of miles just to find a better job. A country that tackles the growing education gap and gives our elderly the dignity and security they deserve.

UNDER MY LEADERSHIP, LABOUR WILL DELIVER A BETTER FUTURE:

Properly funded, universal public services.

World-class education which unleashes everyone's potential.

High-quality jobs and a huge investment in skills.

An economy that works for every region and nation of the UK.

A country that leads the world and tackles the climate emergency.
